Vegetarian Yoga Retreat Center Glastonbury, Somerset, UK

Shekinah Yoga Retreat / Shekinashram has been operational for over 15 years and is a land mark in the Glastonbury landscape. Since its inception in 2003 it has been a thriving retreat centre for both the local and global community attracting a steadily increasing number of people from all over the world. Previously the property was known as the Old Stables and since the 1970's it has been an alternative centre which was formerly known as the Ramala Centre. Prior to this, in its early days it was a coach house and stables attached to Chalice Hill House, which was at that time a school.

The property itself is in a very sought after location on the side of Chalice Hill, at the end of a cul-de-sac on a private lane which is a public footpath to Glastonbury Tor. Whilst the top of Glastonbury High Street is less than 5 minutes walk away the property is hidden away in its own tranquil grounds with only fields and nature behind it.

Set in a good size plot with mature garden and trees with ample private parking, it offers versatile accommodation and excellent business potential. It is in close proximity to all local amenities, and Glastonbury besides being a pilgrimage centre and an enigma of alternative culture, has all the usual small town facilities including a selection of schools, churches, supermarkets, a first class health food shop, library, doctors, and a local hospital.

Garden

The retreat has a beautiful split level flower garden with a lawn, lily pond, a very small woodland, mature trees, including bay, hazel, yew, ash, holly, and large conifers. It also has two fig trees, a plum and a pear tree.

Outbuildings

In addition to a large greenhouse, tool shed, caravan, two outdoor bathrooms and toilets, there is also an 11ft oak yurt with hand crafted cedar wood floor, a unidome and five other cabins, that can be used as living or rentable spaces.

Morning Garden

To the rear of the house there is a small private terrace area which is currently decked, and has great potential for a secluded garden area on Chalice Hill perfectly located to catch the morning sun.

Wooden Cabins

Discreetly hidden away in garden are a diverse array of living quarters, which have been both home to residents and also rented out on a bed & breakfast basis.

Cabin 1

This cabin is in the courtyard and is insulated and is currently used as a 5 bed dormitory.

Cabin 2 & 3

These cabins are in excellent condition and are currently used as both resident and B&B accommodation.

Cabin 4

This is a unique building and a work of art, complete with grass roof and built almost entirely out of recycled material, primarily made from oak, hemp and lime. It includes double bed on a winch, wood burner, and wavy edged oak floor and workstation.

Cabin 5

This cabin has been converted into a bathroom complete with bath, shower, sink, and portalo. It has its own boiler.

Meditation Hall / Events Room
9.67m x 4.64m (in main building)

Business Potential

As a project Shekinah Yoga Retreat is well established and has a faithful clientele who return time and again to stay and / or participate in events. The business has a very good and steady annual turn over, although it has a great deal more potential for someone who is enthusiastic about marketing and would like to take the project onto another level.

We have always been fairly passive in our approach to promoting the business itself as we have been satisfied with the balance as it is, and have focused mostly on creating a spiritual atmosphere, and in so doing have found our website and the word of mouth connections to be very effective in promoting what we have to offer.

Current Income Streams

The majority of the retreat's income comes from bed and breakfast and retreat accommodation. We also run courses ourselves, rent out our meditation / events room for courses and classes with external facilitators, have an in-house shop, a sauna, and offer therapies and vegan lunches.

Furnishings and Post Sale Support

Included in the property price is the good will of our business as well as many of the properties furnishings and much of the equipment and paraphernalia we have found necessary to run the project.

We are also willing to offer full training after the hand over of the property in running the business, passing on contacts, going over all the details of the property, how everything works, and any other assistance related to the how to run such a project if this is required. As it stands the property is a ready made business with good ongoing income.
